What Does Business Incubation Mean?

Business incubation is a vital process that provides early-stage companies with access to mentorship, investors, and various forms of support to facilitate their establishment.

We are moving from the premise that says that government have prioritised small and medium enterprises to act as a catalyst for job creation as the national unemployment figures have reached the highest level.

Small and medium Enterprises are finding it hard to make a proper impact in terms of job creation and growth in general as the economy has not moved into a level of growth convenient for business expansion.

The ORBIT TVET College Centre for Entrepreneurship Rapid Incubations is an organization dedicated to supporting startup companies and individual entrepreneurs in developing their businesses. We offer a comprehensive range of services, from idea development and management training to mentorship, co-working space access, and venture capital financing..
